

Jennifer Lord

Jennifer Lord has been a Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for the Thurston County Prosecuting Attorney's Office for the last 15 years. She is currently the lead for the Thurston County Domestic Violence Felony Unit. The majority of her time with Thurston County has been spent prosecuting cases of domestic violence. She consistently fights for the safety and well-being of domestic violence survivors. Her education and training are extensive in the areas of domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking. In addition to her work as a prosecutor, Jennifer Lord has also served on many task forces over the years to include but not limited to the Thurston County Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Task Force and the Vulnerable Adult Task Force. She has been critical to many community response teams and is currently a key member of the Thurston County Community Coordinated Response Team. She has been integral to the success of those collaborations and in helping to establish best practices in the field of domestic violence. In 2005, Jennifer Lord received the Amethyst Award for her service to domestic violence survivors.
